

FlipSwitch Wins SIIA Business Technology CODiE Award for Best Social Sciences Instructional Solution

CHANDLER, Ariz., June 7, 2016 – FlipSwitch, the integrated technology and curriculum platform for online and blended high schools, announced today that its Civics and Government course SS 301 was named the best Social Sciences Instructional Solution as part of the 2016 SIIA CODiE Awards.

“FlipSwitch is committed to creating research-based, pedagogically sound and multi-media rich online curriculum that prepares students for college and careers,” said Maveonien Creamer, Chief Academic Officer at FlipSwitch. “It is an honor to receive the esteemed CODiE Award as we continue to raise the bar for online curriculum with unparalleled quality, rigor and an engaging design.”

Civics and Government SS 301 from FlipSwitch is a 100% online, dynamic, and interactive course where modern day meets history. Students explore the development of the American government and learn their rights and responsibilities as citizens through compelling content such as virtual Bio Trading cards for important figures, an Amendment of the Day, and an original, allegorical graphic novel designed to emphasize the impact of revolution.

“SIIA’s 2016 Business Technology CODiE Award winners are some of the most innovative products impacting businesses across the world. Recognized by their peers, the CODiE Winners should be proud of this prestigious accolade honoring excellence in business technology products,” said Rhianna Collier, VP & Managing Director for the Software & Services Division at SIIA.

FlipSwitch offers a rigorous and engaging online curriculum for grades 6-12 that includes all core classes and compelling electives. Courses are aligned to Common Core and national standards, as well as state standards for California, Arizona, Idaho, Oklahoma, Ohio and Indiana. FlipSwitch was also recently awarded five 2016 Telly Awards for its groundbreaking online video content.
